

Do not change the existing rules/laws on No Call. I pay for my phone service as a convenience not as a business. This type of solicitation is disruptive and sometimes originates with groups breaking other laws. Of the latter, I have had personal experience with phone solicitations from one group that in the course of the solicitation broke Wisconsin statutes by making false claims. Residential phone owners have no way of knowing this in advance. Protecting the No Call rules will help prevent this from happening.

If you want more information on the specific event I have mentioned. I can furnish more detail.
